RIL looking at more buys to aid JioMart

Experts say firm might target niche players in categories like food, FMCG, personal care

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO

Rila countries (RIL) will look at more acquisitions to merce venture JloMart, part of the retail unit, the company said in an investor update on Friday.

The statement acquires significance as Amazon and Flipkart are gearing up to take advantage of the digital dividend that the Covid-19 pandemic has given e-tailers. Amazon has set aside an additional $1 billion for investment in India, while Flipkart raised $1.2 billion from Walmart in July.

RIL acquired online pharmacy

RIL acquired online pharmacy Netmeds in August and will add the pharmacy channel — apart from categories such as fashion, lifestyle and electronics — to the JioMart cart in the future, it said.

The company has also said it has integrated acquisitions from 2019 into Reliance Retail — including Grab (last-mile logistics), C-Square (analytics and resource planning), NowFloats (software solutions for SMEs) and Fynd (fashion e-commerce) — to strengthen its online capabilities. Airtel rings louder than Jio in net subscriber additions

Jio's earlier tryst with postpaid was very lukewarm and its share of subscribers has been minimal — less than 1 per cent of its total.

In contrast, Airtel has added 0.8 million postpaid customers — the highest in 20 quarters. Their importance is evident from the fact that their average ARPUs, based on past trends, are nearly 2-3x of that of prepaid customers.

September-end and bundled with OTT platforms such as with 011 platforms such as Netflix, Amazon Prime, and Hotstar, on VIP subscriptions will only be reflected in the third quarter FY21 results. Airtel executives are non-chalant. "They have substan-tially increased the postpaid tariffs and added OTT which you can in any case buy on Airtel is also moving aggressively in the FTTH space where, again, it faces Jio in the ring, For instance, in Q2, home broadband subscribers were up by 129,000 to 2.6 million as it increased roll-out of FTTH in So more cities, reaching 150 cities.

While Jio does not give FTTH subscriber numbers separately in its Q2 results, based on the latest Telecom Regulatory Authority of India data of July, Jio had 116-million wired broadband customers, half that of Airtel.

Jio's offer and price are being marched by Airtel too. In the first week of September, Jio launched an aggressive

The even bigger play put in place by Airtel is to substantially reduce the gap with Jio in the number of cities where FTTH services are available. To this end, it has tied up with To this end, it has tied up with local cable operators who will provide the last-mile connectivity. The aim is to offer the service in over 1,000 cities in the next 12-18 months. "The target is to reach over 40 million of the 240-million households in the country," said an Airtel executive.

Clearly this will cuberton.

Clearly, this will substantially reduce the gap with Jio, which has rolled out broadband services in 2,000 cities and is looking to reach 50 million homes. One area where Airtel continues to lag behind is that it has a leverage of 2.9%, compared to Reliance Industries, which is debt free. Jio has shown it can raise money globally from the best, including giants like Facebook and Google, who have also become partners. But Airtel has been no laggard either. It become partners. But Airted has been no laggard either. It has raised $8 billion in the last 18 months through a combination of debt and equity which included private equity and sovereign funds. The only major difference is that it has not tied up with any technology company. Whether it will do so is a question which many are already asking.
